Your Right to Adequate Accommodation

Safe Living Starts with Simple Behavior

Home is a place for rest after a long day of work and maintaining it ensures a healthy and safe environment for everyone. This can be achieved through simple daily practices, including:

Maintaining Cleanliness: Keep rooms and common areas clean to contribute to a healthy living environment.

Clear Access: Avoid blocking emergency exits or hallways to ensure easy movement during emergencies.

Fire Safety: Refrain from storing flammable materials to ensure safety within the premises.

Electrical Safety: Avoid using cooking appliances or heavy electrical devices inside rooms to reduce the risk of fire or short circuits.

Reporting Hazards: Promptly report any malfunctions or hazards to the supervisor to ensure they are addressed quickly

Housing safety is a shared responsibility

everyone commitment ensures a safe and healthy environment for all