

Daman Investments End of Service Program

The Daman Investments End of Service Program (“Savings Scheme”) is part of the UAE Government approved alternative end of service benefits scheme. As an approved alternative scheme, the Savings Scheme enables employees to invest their end of service entitlements (also known as the ‘end of service gratuity’) in reputable funds that have been approved by the UAE’s Securities & Commodities Authority. This means that at the end of their employment, employees receive their entitlement, which will have had the opportunity to grow in value as part of the Savings Scheme.

Employers who elect to be part of this optional Savings Scheme makes monthly contributions to the Savings Scheme fund which is then invested by skilled investment managers to grow and enhance the benefits available to Employees. The Savings Scheme is available as an alternative to the statutory end of service entitlements regime and brings greater security to employers and employees alike.
